T-Shirt Yarn

Ribbed Cushion Cover

I have been itching to make something out of T-Shirt yarn for some time, but trying to find a nice pattern is like trying to find a needle in a haystack, so I thought I would design my own.

This pattern uses a rib stitch, I started off with just DC, but found that you could see the cushion underneath, so the rib stitch gives it some great texture, and also makes the cushion less visible. You'll find this pattern nice, simple and quick, it only took me an evening!

Materials

- 10-12 mm Crochet Hook
- 2 x Hooped Ribbon XL or any other T-Shirt Yarn
- 16 x 16 Cushion
- 6 x Buttons

Stitches Used – UK Terms

- CH (chain)
- DC (Double Crochet)
- BLO (Back Loop Only)

Instructions

Make 2

Start by chaining 40

Row 1 - 1DC into the 2nd chain from the hook, 1DC all the way across, CH1 and turn

Row 2 - 1DC into the BLO all the way across, CH1 and turn

Rows 3 -18 Rep Row 2 and fasten off

You might need to complete more or less rows depending on the thickness of your T-shirt yarn and your tension, also the size of your cushion; by increasing or decreasing the number of rows you can make a larger or smaller cover.

Joining

Place the two panels together and join by 1DC all the way across until you get to the corner, once at the corner of each panel 3DC in the same stitch then continue with a 1DC until the end, leave one side unstitched, so that the cushion can be removed for washing. Add some chunky buttons to secure the cushion until required

Happy Hooking xx
